PIXIESET COLLECTION STANDARDS

Creating a New Collection

Every client delivery should be created using the TMKE preset. This ensures branding and default settings remain consistent across every gallery.

New Collection Settings

- Select TMKE as the collection preset.
- Confirm Watermark 3 is selected.
- Name the collection using the agreed client naming convention.

Note: The watermark can also be applied later in bulk if required, but it is preferable to have it enabled before uploading.

Uploading Your Content

Once the collection has been created, upload all edited content before reviewing the collection settings.

Content Organisation

To provide the best layout and viewing experience photography and videography should be uploaded as separate sets.

Watermark

All photographs must have 'Watermark 3' applied. This can be done by either enabling the watermark before uploading, or bulk applying the watermark after the upload has completed.

Where videos are included, add custom thumbnails where appropriate to improve the appearance of mixed portrait and landscape content.

Before publishing, complete the following checks.

Client Access

- Activate download pin
- Limit photo downloads to align with package details where appropriate.
- Do not share the pin with anyone other than the client as all downloads contribute to the set allowance.
- Restrict downloads to specific contacts and confirm the client’s email address has been entered correctly.
- Ensure all included collections are available to download.
- Always use the TMKE custom domain when sharing the link:
https://gallery.tmke.co.uk/[collection-name]

Additional Image Purchases

The Pixieset Store is enabled for every gallery.

Clients can purchase additional digital photographs through the gallery once they reach their download limit.

Digital image cost £5 each. Payments are processed through Stripe, with purchased images becoming available immediately after payment.

Site Standards

The TMKE Pixieset account has already been configured with the company branding and standard settings.

This includes updated TMKE branding, social media links, TMKE preset configuration and store integration via Stripe.

These settings should not normally require any further changes when creating new client collections.
